

INVITATION

Cool Climate Wines With Altitude™

“Soil Change 2011”

Public Planting of a block of grape vines.

WHO: Wine drinkers, wine enthusiasts and all other interested people are invited to take part in planting the next vineyard at Cargo Road Winery Orange NSW. Following on from the success of the 2001 and 2006 public plantings this is the last block to plant.

WHAT is it all about: Cargo Road Wines hosts an opportunity for the public to experience the vineyard from the ground up. Good wine starts at the vine so let's come back to the basics, and involve as many interested people in the planting of Riesling vine rootlings. Follow their progress from day one to.....

WHY am I doing this: To offer a unique experience where you can learn by planting along side the people that do it for a living. I am constantly asked many questions by people fascinated by grape growing and wine making so here is your chance to jump in boots and all get your hands dirty. Plant the vine and watch it develop for the rest of your life. Follow the whole process online and visit the winery to drink the final product this is a “from the roots up experience”.
